

Change In School Boundaries Made

A temporary change in the boundaries of the various schools in the East Kildonan school district, made necessary by the large number of new homes in the municipality, and the expected influx of new pupils, has been announced by the secretary of the district.

The new boundary lines are as follows: For Prince Edward school: Montrose avenue to Helmsdale; on the west from Red River across Henderson Highway to Brazier, on the east from Montrose avenue north to lane between Bowman and Jamieson, east to Roche, north to Trent avenue, east to Watt street, and north on Watt to Helmsdale.

For Polson school: East and south of above described Prince Edward school district and east to C.P.R. main line tracks.

For Salisbury school: All area east of C.P.R. main line tracks within the municipality of East Kildonan.

For Lord Wolseley school: Area north of Helmsdale to municipal limits, on north, from Red River on west to C.P.R. tracks on the east.

The grades to be taught in the various schools are: in Prince Edward school, grades one to nine; Polson school, grades one to eight; Salisbury school, grades one to eight; Lord Wolseley, grades one to five.

Arrangements have been made for all collegiate students in the municipality to register at the Lord Wolseley school. This year, the East Kildonan school board announces, grades XII will be again taught in the collegiate and high school. Students living outside the municipality, who wish to enroll in the collegiate, will be registered by J. Colvin, the secretary-treasurer, September 3.
