Lord Wolseley School is 70 years old and it is celebrating!

June 19 at 7 p.m., the school will be putting on two short musical plays. The primary children will be presenting — The Selfish Giant, while the upper elementary students will present — Mirror, Mirror.

Immediately following the two plays, there will be an informal tea.

All former staff and/or students are invited to drop in and say hello. The school is also hoping to collect as much memorabilia as possible to put on display. People who have yearbooks, pictures, please call the school at 661-2384.
