To complete "the perfect day," the graduates and their friends assembled at The Highwayman for the traditional banquet and dance. David Evans proved a very able chairman. He welcomed the guests of honor, including the graduates, Rev. F. J. Ison, Mr. and Mrs. A. Warne, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Carter. A most enjoyable program followed during which a pleasant musical interlude was provided by the graduates' choir singing "Over the Rainbow" and "A Merry Heart," with Miss Seale directing and Mr. Wiley at the piano.

Ann Watt proposed the toast to the School Board, who had made possible the years of schooling enjoyed by the graduates. In replying to this toast, H. L. Carter reminded the graduates "It isn't by size that you win or you fail; be the best of whatever you are!"

The toast to the staff of the Collegiate was well presented by Arthur Barker and responded to by Miss C. I. Seale, who this year retires from the Collegiate staff. She reminded the graduates that "Whether it be in a lawyer's office, in the world of sport, in the home, in public life, the principles of friendliness, co-operation, loyalty, politeness and stick-to-it-iveness will always stand you in good stead."

In proposing the toast to the graduates Sheila Halliday thanked them for their leadership and expressed the hope that the tens of this year might carry on their good work. In replying to this toast, Bernice Rzasa pointed out how necessary the team-work of the whole school had been in achieving success in any school venture.

The two speeches of greatest interest to the graduates, of course, were the Class History, presented in masterly fashion by Sheila Hughes, and the Class Prophecy by Bob Carr, which fairly "brought the house down." With the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" the banquet was brought to its traditional close, and youth was "on with the dance." It was a great day!
